

RENTAL APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

We appreciate your interest in the rental dwelling we currently want to rent to people who are considerate of their neighbors, clean in their living habits, capable of paying the rent, and prompt in paying their bills, we use a rental application to help us determine whether our applicants meet these qualifications.

In order to rent from us, you must complete a rental application. We want you to know how to complete the application we use, and we also want you to know what our company does with your application.

When filling out the application put something in every blank, even if you have to put "NONE" or "N.A." in some blanks. Try to write so that your entry fits in the space provided. If they don't continue them on the back side. Take your time and look up any information called for on the application which you're at all uncertain about. Don't guess!

Make sure that you read the declaration just above the signature line and agree to it before you sign your name to the application. It states that the information on your application is true and correct, and it authorizes us to verify your references and your credit as they relate to your tenancy now and to your paying rent in the future.

When you have completed your application, read it over carefully to make sure that it is accurate, complete, and legible. Look especially for misspellings and transposed numbers.

Once we receive your application, we verify as much of it as we can. We verify your Social Security number, your driver's license, your current tenancy, your previous tenancy, your credit, your income, a criminal background check, and your personal references.

That's the procedure we follow when we check applications. If you suspect we might discover a "skeleton in your closet "when we check your application and you want to tell us about it before we go to all the trouble of checking you out, please feel free to do so. We'd be glad to talk with you about it. Otherwise, we will expect no surprises when we're checking you out and hope that we will soon be doing business together as landlord and tenant.

Thank You.
